

Metro Bakery, Mount Gambier 🥧🥧🥧🥧🥧

Deep, weighty and presented with a high-rising golden flaky top, the Metro pie looks like a meal.

There is a nutty taste to the flaky pastry while the shortcrust, which has a neat lip, has the wheaten flour taste and uniform texture which comes from using superior flour.

Limited use of gravy and additives gives the filling a meaty taste and allows a nice texture to be developed. There is pepper, which is good, and perhaps too much salt, which is not so good, but it is a very good filling.
